

Connect Group Study Guide: The Consequences of Sinful Living Cannot Be Underestimated

A big God bless you my dearly loved brethren for lending me your ears this last Sunday. Indeed it was a great blessing to share with you His life changing Word. I trust you had something to take away with you. My prayer for all of you is that the Lord will continue to prosper your journey of faith. Let us make it our ultimate aim that we are found in Him, and filled with His righteousness which is by faith in Christ Jesus. Shalom.

A few points to remember:

- In the eyes of the Lord, obedience will always be of more value than any sacrifices we can ever make
- Sin should no longer hold its fatal attraction in our lives, and should be viewed as a terrible thing
- Sinful living can be a catalyst and trigger for more sin, and its pleasures short lived.
- Be on the watch out for emerging issues in your life, especially those things you are beginning to tolerate
- Sin will always lead you further than you wanted to go, and will cost you more than you wanted to pay.

Pastor A Shadreck

1. John 8:3-11, 1 Peter 1:15-16; 1 John 3:2-3; 2 Corinthians 5:19-21, Colossians 1:18-22; 1 John 1:8-10; Hebrews 13:20-21

Jesus always emphasised to those who surrendered their lives to Him to go and sin no more. Share your understanding of what he meant by this. Is it possible for us to be completely incapable of committing any sin?

2. Genesis 6:5-8; Romans 6:1-7; Ezekiel 18:24-27; Amos 2:4-5 Hebrews 6:4-6; Acts 2:42-43; Proverbs 16:6; Hebrews 12:28-29;

The dispensation of grace has in some way caused Christians to be less aware of the consequences of sinful living. Would you consider this to be a fair observation? Do you think that to some degree the Church has lost consistency in its call to exhibit genuine fear of the Lord?

3. James 1:13-15; 1 Peter 5: 8-9; 1 Corinthians 10:13; Genesis 19:12-19 Ezekiel 36:25-27; Jeremiah 2:1-9; Hebrews 12:3-4; Proverbs 7:1-7; 9-27

When we fall into sin surely God has to share the problem with us to some extent. Can we get away with absolving ourselves of any responsibility at all? Share your thoughts and your take on this.